

Redevelopment project complete

The redevelopment project is now officially complete with the final stage of works having been recently finished. This included the construction of the new staff accommodation building, completion of internal access roads and the final landscaping, arts and heritage installations.

The project team would like to thank the staff and community for their patience and support during the redevelopment project over the past five years of planning, design and construction.

Community open day

To celebrate the project's completion we are holding a community event on Wednesday 30 June from 10am.

If you would like to attend we ask that you please pre-register via one of three options:

- ⇒ online form
(<https://forms.office.com/r/6z5t2AH9cC>)
- ⇒ the QR code shown here using your smartphone's camera, or
- ⇒ call the hospital on 6546 9000

Arts and heritage installations come to life

Incorporating arts and heritage into the new hospital campus has been a focus of the redevelopment project. This has included:

- ⇒ Heritage information boards located at the hospital's external entry area
- ⇒ Culturally welcoming artwork within the hospital's airlock entry
- ⇒ Display of historical medical items and plaques within the hospital's waiting room
- ⇒ Historical timeline showing the history of the health service in Murrurundi
- ⇒ Local photography within the patient corridors, captured by local artist Mandy Archibald
- ⇒ Mural painted on the new water tanks, coordinated by local artist Anita Faulkner with students from the Murrurundi Public School

Accessing the hospital campus

A reminder about accessing the new hospital. Please note the public access is via the new entry from Paradise Road. The service road from the corner of O'Connell Street and Paradise Road is for Ambulances, service vehicles and staff only.

The site map included on this page shows the public entry and exit point from Paradise Road.
