Excitement builds as Stage 1 nears completion

Bonalbo MPS is on track for a Stage 1 completion by the end of January 2018, with the site a hive of activity inside and out.

Landscaping has commenced as the finishing touches are being put into place inside the new state-of-the-art facility.

Here we provide a sneak peak at the new building as it nears completion, ahead of its opening early next year.

The Project Team seek your patience during the construction of the Bonalbo MPS and wish to advise that strategies are in place to keep disruption to a minimum.

And the Time Capsule seal winner is . . .

More than 800 surveys were sent out into the community last month seeking input into the preferred icon/image for the Bonalbo MPS time capsule seal.

The Project Team received just over 80 responses, with the majority of respondents voting for the bloodwood tree flower.

The time capsule is currently buried at the rear of the existing Bonalbo Hospital and will be dug up and reburied under the footpath at the main entrance of the new MPS.

The seal will be constructed and placed into position at the completion of Stage 2 works, due to start early 2018.
